Nürburgring 24

Endurance Racing has a long tradition at the Nürburgring with the first 1000km being held in 1953 as part of the World Sportscar Championship.

The race was won by Alberto Ascari and Giuseppe Farina for Ferrari.

The full Circuit version, including the Sudschliefe ran to more than 17 miles although most races were staged on the 14.17 mile long Nordschliefe, a track that was to earn the reputation as the true test of a driver's talent. The 'Ring' was a remarkable track with its seemingly endless ups and downs and twists and turns. Fangio - Peter Collins - Jackie Stewart - Nicki Lauda all drove the Circuit. For other Circuit Events please enquire
